

Experience the benefits of integrated learning

Introducing the INTEGRATED UNITS

Written by teachers, for teachers, these units provide schools with the opportunity to experience the benefits of integrated learning without having to start from scratch. Each unit is based on a rich and authentic cross-curricular theme. They include suggested lesson sequences for seven learning areas based on achievement objectives from The New Zealand Curriculum. Additional teacher resources, assessment tasks with rubrics, and student worksheets make these CDs user-friendly and classroom-ready. Introductory notes outline how to get started with integrated learning that involves the whole school. Suggestions are also included for schools wanting to incorporate social action, such as the 40 Hour Famine, with what has been learnt in the classroom.

Motivated student

About SHARON, KATHRYN and PAULA the authors

The authors combined a wealth of educational experience and knowledge to produce Feast or Famine and Feed the World. Sharon, Kathryn and Paula between them have taught 25 years in 11 schools including primary, intermediate and secondary, across all learning areas. Kathryn and Paula currently teach at Albany Junior High School, where integrated learning takes place in Year 7. Sharon has worked for World Vision as a global education writer over the last six years. The integrated units demonstrate they know what it takes to make learning meaningful for students and resources current and easy-to-use for busy teachers.

FEAST OR FAMINE

By Sharon Crosbie,
Kathryn Lett and
Paula Pierce

Integrated unit on CD
For Years 7 and 8
Cost: $70

In a world of plenty, why do so many people go hungry? Explore the answer to this and other questions about food and global hunger. This CD provides Level 4 curriculum-linked resources to: Investigate the importance of food to our bodies and the impact not enough food has (Science); Learn about how to prepare a nutritious meal (Food Technology); Discover how groups can improve the well-being of hungry people in New Zealand (Health and PE); Raise awareness about global hunger and ways to help address it (Drama); Find out about global hunger, the causes and effects (Social Studies); Present a speech about the injustice of hunger (English); Communicate patterns and relationships about global hunger using graphs and tables (Maths).

FEED THE WORLD

By Sharon Crosbie,
Kathryn Lett and
Paula Pierce

Integrated unit on CD
For Years 9 and 10
Cost: $70

The food crisis highlights issues about feeding the world both now and in the future. Is the global food supply sustainable and what will it take to make it so? This CD includes Level 5 curriculum-linked resources to: Debate food crisis related topics (English); Communicate ideas in poster form (Visual Arts); Experience how lack of, or too much, food can affect people's physical competence and participation (Health and PE); Communicate patterns and relationships about feeding the world (Maths); Investigate the ecological interdependence of living things (Science); Understand how people's management of resources impacts on environmental and social sustainability (Social Studies); Develop a porridge that meets the nutritional needs of under-fives (Food Technology).

Introducing the LET'S INTEGRATE workshops

Give yourself a day out of the classroom to discover how integrated learning benefits both teachers and students. Learn about different models of integration and how they help meet requirements of The New Zealand Curriculum. Plan an integrated unit for your school, or attend with your colleagues and plan one together. Take time to meet and share ideas with teachers from other schools. This workshop runs from 9am to 3pm and is designed for Years 7 to 10 teachers of all curriculum areas. Lunch and refreshments are provided. Prior registration is essential and closes when a workshop is full.

About MARGARET the workshop facilitator

Margaret Leamy is an experienced and energetic facilitator who inspires and enables teachers. She has up-to-date knowledge of curriculum developments and educational practice. With more than ten years as a Social Sciences teacher and two years as the Auckland/Northland Geography Advisor, she is well informed of the busy classroom teacher's needs. Currently, Margaret works as the Social Sciences Advisor at the Centre for Educational Development, Massey University.

Integrated learning

Dear Teacher of Years 7 to 10

It's a challenge piecing together all that's required of teachers in today's changing education scene. But World Vision's integrated units and workshop mean you don't have to go it alone.

The CDs, Feast or Famine and Feed the World, bring high-interest topics alive with activities that engage students. A suggested learning sequence, teacher resources, assessment tasks with rubrics, and student worksheets. Introductory notes help schools get started with curriculum integration and suggest ways to include effective social action.

At the Let's Integrate workshop you can learn how to apply integrated learning to your teaching. You'll meet and talk with other teachers.

Please contact me if you'd like to know more.
