

Hey!

Got questions about Worldbuddies?

Check out the following information:

Q. Who can be a Worldbuddy?

A. Anyone who wants to get to know a child their own age living in a community in need. All you need to do is get a grown-up's permission and support to sponsor a child.

Q. Why do children overseas need me to sponsor them?

A. There are kids in the world who go to bed hungry every night. They get sick because there is no clean water to drink and they can die because there is no medicine to make them better.

You get to help your Worldbuddy and their family get food, clean water, and medicine. What's even better is the money you give will be used to improve the life of everyone in the community where your Worldbuddy lives.

Q. How much does it cost to be a Worldbuddy?

A. Sponsoring a child costs $40 a month, so it might be an idea to talk to the rest of your family about doing it together. You could put some of your pocket money in and get a grown-up to make up the difference.

Q. So how do I become a Worldbuddy?

A. Talk to a grown-up (either a parent, caregiver, grandparent or teacher) about sponsoring a child and then get them to call World Vision and ask about Worldbuddies. (0800 800 776)

Q. What sort of things do you do as a Worldbuddy?

A. Four times a year, around school holiday time, World Vision will send you an email with a link to the Worldbuddies webpage (www.worldbuddies.org.nz). There you'll find all sorts of cool ideas and suggestions on being a Worldbuddy, as well as some activities you can do.

One of the greatest things about being a Worldbuddy is becoming a friend with someone in another country and getting to know each other. You can do this by writing to your friend and sending them some of the Worldbuddy activities you do.
